Harvest Updates From Indie Wine Country

10/1/2018

It's the most important time of year for your giddy Angel-funded winemakers...
Harvest!

And nothing can change the big, glowing smiles on your winemakers' faces. They've been waiting for this month like a kid waiting for Santa... and it's finally here! It's harvest season y'all...

From grapes bouncing into the hopper, to the waterfalls of pressed juice cascading into tanks, and the rumblings of barrels about the warehouse – your Angel-funded winery's filling up with another year of scrumptious, mouth-watering wines.

The whole crew couldn't be more excited – and you're an important part of that team too! Without you, another year of world-class wines wouldn't be possible.
