

Financial impacts of conversion from IFRS to U.S. GAAP

LEGAL DISCLOSURE

This presentation includes certain non-IFRS and non-GAAP financial measures. These non-IFRS and non-GAAP financial measures are in addition to, and not a substitute for or superior to, measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with IFRS and U.S. GAAP. There are a number of limitations related to the use of these non-IFRS and non-GAAP financial measures versus their nearest respective IFRS and U.S. GAAP equivalents. For example, other companies may calculate non-IFRS and non-GAAP financial measures differently or may use other measures to evaluate their performance, any of which could reduce the usefulness of our non-IFRS and non-GAAP financial measures as tools for comparison.

Further information on these and other factors that could affect our financial results is included in filings we make with the Securities and Exchange Commission from time to time, including the section titled "Risk Factors" in our most recent Forms 20-F and 6-K (reporting our quarterly results). These documents are available on the SEC Filings section of the Investor Relations section of our website at: https://investors.atlassian.com.

OVERVIEW

Effective September 30, 2022, Atlassian Corporation (Atlassian) completed the company's redomiciliation from the United Kingdom to the United States.

As a result of the redomiciliation, Atlassian is transitioning its accounting standards from International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") to U.S. GAAP ("GAAP") for U.S. reporting purposes.

The following presentation summarizes the primary impacts of the conversion from IFRS to GAAP and presents a summary of the financial results for fiscal 2021, fiscal 2022, and quarterly results for fiscal 2022 under both IFRS and GAAP.

The GAAP financial information in this presentation has not been audited and is subject to change.

Atlassian Corporation has become the new Delaware incorporated holding company of Atlassian Corporation Plc and its subsidiaries.

SUMMARY OF PRIMARY IMPACTS TO CONVERT FROM IFRS TO GAAP

	IFRS	GAAP	Statement of operations impacts of conversion from IFRS to GAAP
Stock-based compensation ("SBC")	Expense is recognized under the accelerated method for stock-based awards resulting in greater expense being recognized in the earlier years of the award.	Expense is recognized under the straight line method for stock-based awards resulting in expense recognized ratably across the vesting period of the award.	Decrease of SBC expense recognized in FY21 ($45M) and FY22 ($182M).
Leases	Expenses related to facility leases are recognized in cost of revenues, operating expenses and interest expense on the statement of operations. The expense recognition method results in a higher portion of the total lease expense recognized earlier in the lease term.	Expenses related to facility leases, including any implied interest related to leases, are recognized in cost of revenues and operating expenses on the statement of operations. The expense recognition method results in total lease expense recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.	 Net decrease in operating income in FY21 ($5M) and FY22 ($5M) due to: increase in cost of revenues and operating expenses from the reclassification of interest from non-operating expenses (approx. $7M) decrease in total lease expense due to expense recognition method differences (approx. $2M)
Strategic Investments	Changes in fair value of equity investments are recognized in other comprehensive income (loss), a component of equity, on the statement of financial position.	Changes in fair value of equity investments are recognized in other non-operating expense on the statement of operations.	Decrease in other expense, net in FY21 ($50M gain on strategic investments) and increase in other expense, net in FY22 ($71M loss on strategic investments).
Exchangeable Notes	Interest expense is recognized based on an effective interest rate formulated on estimated cash flows.	Interest expense is recognized based on an effective interest rate formulated on contractual cash flows.	Decrease in interest expense in FY21 ($23M) and increase in interest expense in FY22 ($23M).

OPERATING INCOME IFRS VS. GAAP

(U.S. $ in millions) (unaudited)

The difference between IFRS results previously reported and GAAP is primarily due to stockbased compensation expense. Under IFRS, more stock-based compensation is recognized in the earlier vesting periods for an award.

Atlassian typically grants stock awards annually to existing employees late in the first quarter of the fiscal year.

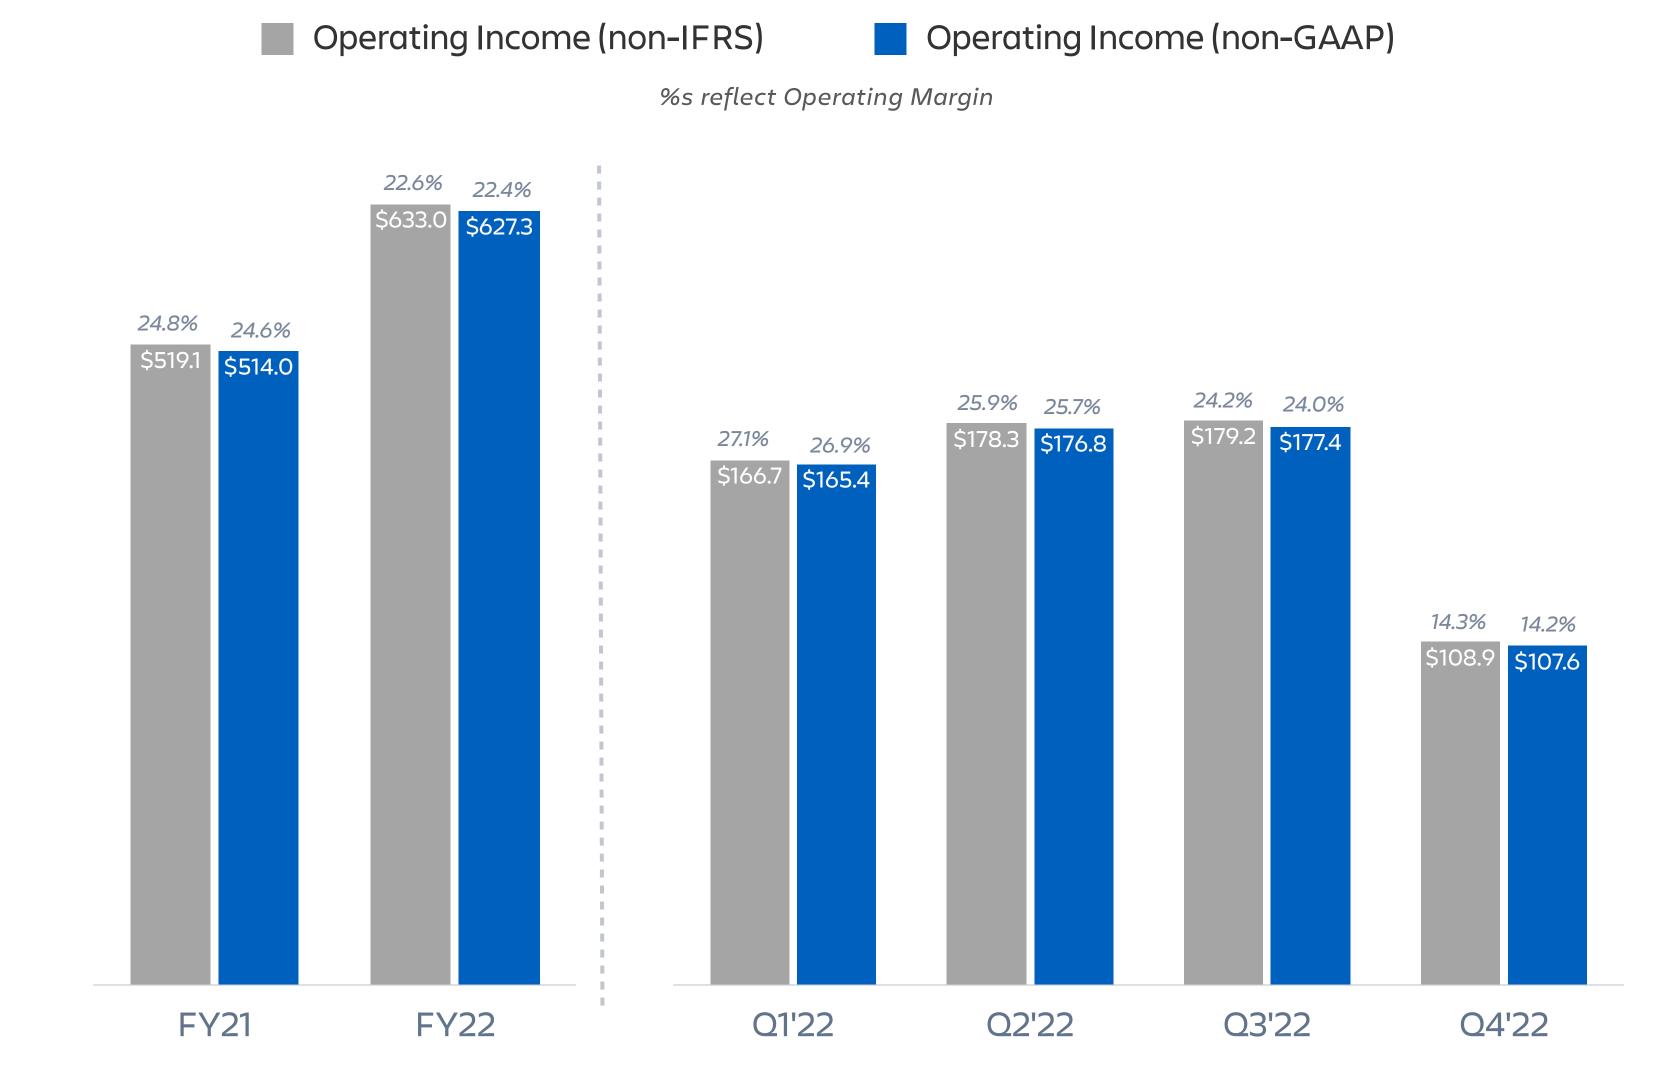

OPERATING INCOME & MARGIN NON-IFRS VS. NON-GAAP

(U.S. $ in millions, except percentages) (unaudited)

The difference between non-IFRS results previously reported and non-GAAP is primarily due to the reclassification of interest expense for lease obligations from non-operating expense under IFRS to operating expense under GAAP.

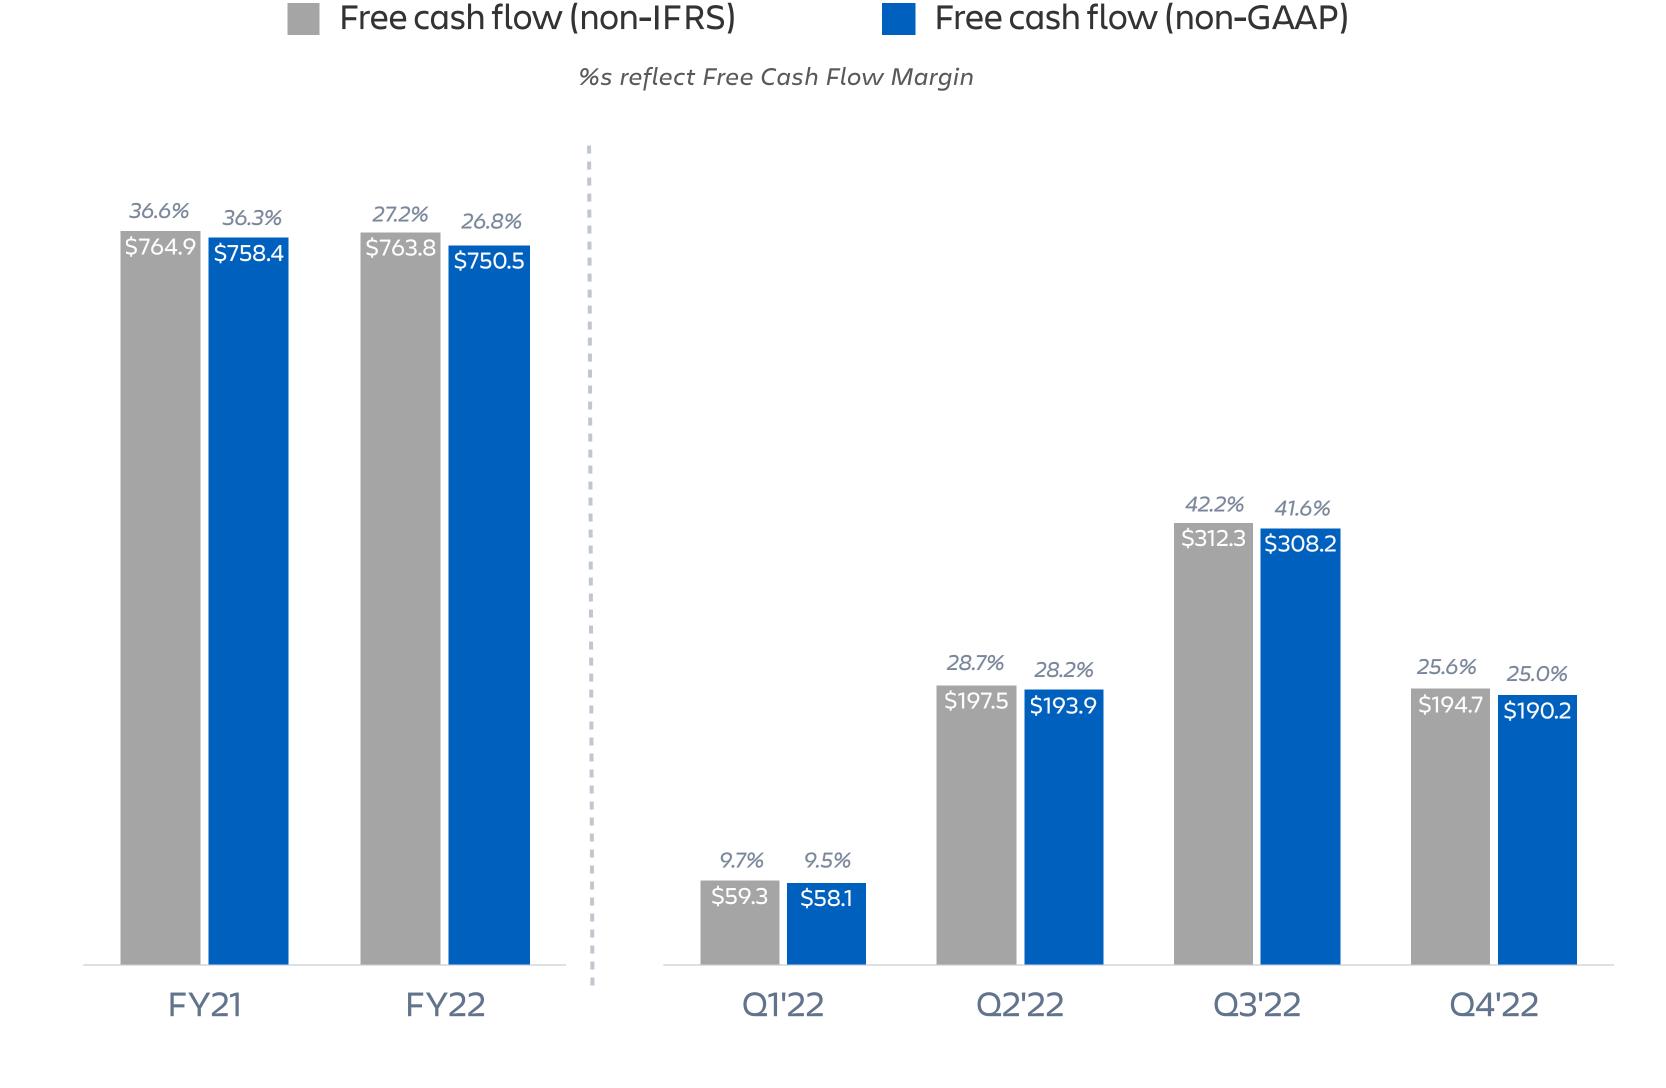

Under GAAP, Atlassian will recognize interest related to lease obligations as lease expense which will be allocated accordingly to cost of revenues and operating expenses on the statement of operations.

FREE CASH FLOW & MARGIN NON-IFRS VS. NON-GAAP

(U.S. $ in millions, except percentages) (unaudited)

The difference between non-IFRS results previously reported and non-GAAP is due to the reclassification of cash flows for interest paid on the Exchangeable Notes and the Credit Facility from financing activities to operating activities on the statement of cash flows.
