Veteran software finance leader to help shape next stage of strategy, growth

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- DISCO (NYSE: LAW), a creator of industry-leading litigation technology, today announced that enterprise SaaS, artificial intelligence and digital security veteran Aaron Barfoot has been appointed chief financial officer, effective January 12, 2026.

"Aaron's impressive background in scaled software and AI in high-growth industries and significant experience leading major finance disciplines at public companies make him a great fit for DISCO as we continue to focus on innovation and growth," said CEO Eric Friedrichsen. "Aaron brings a sharp entrepreneurial mindset alongside deep practical experience driving business transformation, and we're thrilled to welcome him to DISCO."

Barfoot brings more than two decades of finance and corporate development experience, primarily in enterprise-grade software and digital security. Most recently, he was chief financial officer at Socure, a leading provider of AI-powered digital identity verification and fraud prevention solutions, and has also held CFO and other senior finance roles at Forter, Anaconda, ClearDATA and Rackspace.

"DISCO's reputation as a disruptor in legal technology, coupled with a compelling profitable growth story, makes this an incredible opportunity, and I'm excited to join a deep and committed senior leadership team as we continue to grow and scale this business," said Barfoot.

Barfoot holds a B.S. in Economics from Baylor University. He will be based in Dallas.
