With You In Every Case: DISCO Launches New Value Proposition

2025-03-25

Focuses on ways partnership drives better outcomes on large and complex matters

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- DISCO (NYSE: LAW), a creator of industry-leading litigation technology, today announced the launch of a new customer value proposition designed to emphasize the company's unique combination of cutting-edge technology and a world-class professional services team of legal experts.

With You in Every Case focuses on DISCO's ability to support every kind of legal matter with a partnership approach that's flexible, scalable and tailored to a customer's specific needs. Some companies build their own technology in a vacuum. Others add bulky, opaque and one-size-fits-some service offerings to someone else's platform. For more than a decade, DISCO has been testing and developing AI tools that enhance legal fact finding for attorneys, and With You in Every Case demonstrates what's possible by building advanced solutions and supporting them with teams dedicated to helping customers get the most from those tools.

"DISCO has long been known as an innovator in litigation technology, but it is the combination of our innovative, AI-powered platform with a full range of professional services that is truly differentiating," said CEO Eric Friedrichsen. "This commitment to partnership helps customers effectively manage any matter – even their largest and most complex – across the litigation lifecycle. It means faster speed to evidence with high precision backed by expert teams. We're showing there's a better way to approach eDiscovery, and it's with a partner with software and services in-house that's invested in your success. We are truly with you in every case."

At the center of DISCO's comprehensive solution is an AI-powered platform that is constantly evolving based on real customer feedback to stay at the forefront of today's litigation landscape. DISCO's suite of generative AI tools – named Cecilia – is the latest advancement, bringing trusted, proven and defensible solutions to the toughest matters. Cecilia Auto Review is setting new standards for precision and recall – even relative to manual review.

With You in Every Case lends a people-first view to this new technology. See it in action here.
